

Scottie Callaghan, head trainer and brand ambassador for Belaroma Coffee Company.

On top of his art

BARISTAS at Cafe Bar Maldini in Strathfield will be brewing up artistic flourishes today when Belaroma Coffee's head trainer and brand ambassador, Scottie Callaghan drops by to impart his award winning latte art techniques.

An Abbotsford local and barista of eight years, Callaghan nabbed the title of World Latte Artist Champion in 2006 and currently spends his time educating and training baristas for the Sydney-based coffee roasters.

The guest appearance at the cafe from 8am to noon today, will see Callaghan working hard behind the espresso machine, giving Maldini customers a chance to sample the ultimate pick-me-up made by an Australian Barista Champion, or simply marvel at the exquisite latte artistry Callaghan is capable of with nothing but an espresso and a jug of steamed milk. He will also be on hand to chat to customers about what makes a good coffee and why.
